

The Suffolk song – ‘A million acres’

From gently rolling green meadow
Through heathland, brecks and fens
The Castles, Churches and Abbey
A coastline that never ends
The south folk gather together
To hail St Edmund’s land

The place we love to be
Our home and family
A million acres of beauty
We celebrate our county by the sea

From highest heights of Great Wood Hill
Through Peaceful valleys low
The Rowley mile to Portman Road
Round Foxhall track we go
The south folk gather together
To hail St Edmund’s land

Chorus counterpart: echoes first 2 lines of refrain

Playout tag:

We sing our Suffolk song of celebration, we will sing x2